SUMMARY

Full stack developer who transitioned from a Bachelor's in English to Information Technology after discovering a strong interest in web development — and has been building and shipping working software ever since. Currently a Full Stack AI Developer at Phaze AI, building agent-based platforms with Python, JavaScript, and MySQL, alongside freelance web and mobile app development. Comfortable across the stack, from React/Next.js frontends to Python-based AI agent backends.

EXPERIENCE

Full Stack AI Developer — Phaze AI 2025 — Present

- Building agent-based platforms and shipping production-ready interfaces using Python, JavaScript, and MySQL.
- Working across the full stack — from backend agent logic to the interfaces users interact with.

Freelance Web & Mobile Developer — Self-employed 2024 — Present

- Deliver custom websites, web applications, and mobile apps for independent clients — from corporate sites to booking systems.
- Handle the full project lifecycle: requirements, design, development, and deployment.

SELECTED PROJECTS

Client & Project Tracker — React Native, Expo, TypeScript 2026

- Cross-platform mobile app (iOS + Android) for freelancers to track clients and project status, with on-device persistence.

Career Recommendation System — Python, Random Forest, ML 2026

- MSc IT capstone project — recommends career paths from academic and skill inputs using a trained Random Forest model.

Portfolio Website — Next.js, TypeScript 2026

- Personal portfolio and client-facing services site with a custom neo-brutalist design system.

Weather Dashboard — HTML, CSS, JavaScript 2025

- Web app fetching real-time weather data from a public API, dynamically displaying temperature, conditions, and location; debugged with Chrome DevTools across screen sizes.

Restaurant Booking Interface — HTML, CSS, Bootstrap 2025

- Responsive, mobile-friendly booking interface built with Bootstrap's grid system for consistent layout across devices.
